EXERCISE A.

The first morning our four friends were in London they decided to go — in the West End. Charing Cross Road is well known for its many — book-shops and shops with foreign —. These shops were of great — to Storm and Wood, who were both stamp —. Wood's first — of stamps was only small, but it has — from year to year to about 8,000 stamps, because he has — much time on it together with two of his old —. When they came to Shaftesbury Avenue, they — to the —. If they had — to the —, they would have got back to the hotel again.
